From now on the local eleven will be kept busy, as the Chicago game

comes a week from Saturday. Coach Cutts has introduced a new device for training the football squad. He calls it a charging machine, and, like the tackling dummy, it is entirely new at Purdue. The contrivance is of wood, built on rollers and is three feet high, ten feet wide and three feet deep. The back of the machine is so built that it can be filled with iron weights. The machine is for the five center men on the line and will be used by them to test their strength.

All the members of the squad appeared on Stuart Field last evening in good condition. Holter, who was hurt in the Englewood game, was out, but did not work hard. Jee Knapp is recovering from the effects of his injury some weeks ago and probably will get back in the game within a week. The practice yesterday was the most spirited seen this year. Fourteen of the men appeared in new suits. They were the players who are considered the 'varsity candidates and included S.
